Michael Charles is a teaching professional at Eastmoreland Golf Course, where he has been instructing since 2007. Prior to his time at Eastmoreland, Michael competed on various mini tours and taught at several golf facilities in Portland and Palm Springs, including La Quinta Country Club and Mission Hills Country Club.

Originally from London, England, Michael was very successful playing competitive golf at Jesuit High School and the University of Portland. He has represented Oregon at both junior and adult levels and also competed on the Korn Ferry Tour, one step below the PGA Tour.

In addition to his role at Eastmoreland, Michael is currently the Junior Varsity and Assistant Girls Golf Coach at Cleveland High School. His coaching experience includes collegiate programs at the University of Portland, Portland State University, and Lewis & Clark College.

As an instructor, Michael enjoys helping golfers of all skill levels achieve their individual goals. His teaching philosophy emphasizes core fundamentals and scoring techniques while adapting to each student's unique needs and playing style.
